1) Call meeting to order, approval of the minutes from February 2019 meeting. Minutes approved.

2) Information item regarding GSU’s Title 9 compliance in athletics. James Ainsworth explained that while the GSU (male) football team has a newly renovated locker room facility and a newly acquired stadium to practice in, the facilities afforded to those female sports that counterbalance the football team for the purpose of Title 9, may have inferior facilities. For example, the women’s track and cross country teams do not even have a locker room facility and GSU rents a high school track for them to practice on. A video of the football team new locker room was shown. The full committee discuss the level of inequality and agreed to continue to pursue this topic by discussing the topic with the GSU athletic director.
3) Subcommittee Reports:

A. Faculty Diversity (Next Gen Commission)-James Ainsworth

Dean Rosen fielded questions regarding the CDC’s concerns about the Commission for the Next Generation of Faculty’s lack of transparency. She stated that while the CDC can communicate with the Commission through the CDC representatives on the commission, the Commission is charged with reporting to the University president, and that the current form of communication will not change in response to the CDC’s request.

B. LGBTQ-Lanette Brown

Updates were provided regarding the sub-committee’s progress, including a discussion of module developments related to sensitivity training.

C. Gen. Student Related Diversity-Jeffrey Coleman

Discussions of the development of a cultural diversity certificate were discussed, and how they may be related to an effort by the sociology department to develop a social justice certificate.

D. General Faculty Diversity-Update presented by James Ainsworth

Ainsworth reported that the Office of Institutional Effectiveness has agreed to provide data related to gender pay inequity once those data are available from the recent audit (if possible), and that they would also provide GSU data comparable to a national report on the topic.
